Basant Panchami is a festival that marks the preparation for the arrival of spring. Goddess Saraswati is worshipped on this auspicious day, who is the goddess of knowledge, music, and learning. People celebrate the day by wearing yellow dresses, eating sweet dishes and displaying yellow flowers in their homes. JKPS celebrated BASANT PANCHAMI on 19-01-2023 with the students of class VI B organizing an eventful assembly.

The assembly commenced with a melodious shabad sung by the students, followed by news headlines of the day. Then, some new vocabulary enrichment words were imparted to the students to develop their lexicon. This was followed by thought of the day, and students narrating the importance of Saraswati puja and relevance of celebrating this festival through Saraswati vandana and a mesmerizing dance performance. The assembly concluded with National Anthem. Students participated enthusiastically in the assembly.
