NATIONAL INTEGRATION

National Integration has always been the force behind the idea of being a secular state. This implies that every citizen of our country has the fundamental right to freely practice his/her religion. The government or anyone, for that matter, cannot show any preference to one religion at the expense of another.

Coming to democracy, under this ideal, all the citizens of the law. Thus, the idea of national integration paves the way for the basic ideas mentioned in our constitution.

However, it is not new that there have been many instances where people have been hostile towards a particular group, language, religion, culture, or beliefs. This again causes harm to the hard built national unity of the country. The government takes small measures to ensure safety and give equal privileges to the needy ensuring national integration, however, we as responsible citizens must also give due respect and realize the greatness of unity in diversity.
