

The Joy of Giving

In 1987, the United Nations Brundtland Commission defined sustainability as “meeting the needs of the present without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs.”

The Eco Club has continuously strived to spread awareness amongst the students about the various issues that are being faced by our planet regarding our environment and to foster an eco-friendly environment at JKPS. Community Outreach Programme, too, makes sure that no part of the society is left out from the support of our institution.

JKPS Community Outreach Programme and Eco Club organised the ‘Joy of Giving’ campaign on 30th March 2023, the end of session for classes PS-XII wherein our students and staff members whole heartedly came forward and extended a hand in supporting those in need by contributing old notebooks, storybooks, workbooks and other used books which would further be recycled and re-bound by Inchpaper.

Inchpaper aims for ‘Har Haath Kitaab’ which is a social initiative from their side. The textbooks will further be contributed to NGOs as a teaching learning material. Enthusiastic parents and the benevolent Jaspalians came forward in great numbers to share their 'Gift of Joy'.
