

VISIT TO ABHYAS SPECIAL SCHOOL AND LEARNING CENTRE

“We are all born originals.”

– Edward Young

The majority of children in our school are blessed to have their needs and desires met without ever thinking about it. In contrast, there is another neighbourhood where people's fundamental needs, including those of children, are rarely satisfied regularly. The Community Outreach program provides ample amount of opportunities for our children to share their blessings with others. One such opportunity was the visit to Abhyas Special School and Learning Centre located in Derawal Nagar by team JKPS on 19 December, Tuesday. The children got a chance to comprehend the difficult circumstances of the special children there.

Team JKPS shared an exercise cycle as a token of love and appreciation for the children and the staff members there. It would help the children to keep themselves fit and indulge in some physical activity to keep themselves engaged.

The students interacted with the children and staff there, lent them a hand and most importantly treated them with the dignity and respect they deserved. Students had the opportunity to connect with and meet children with special needs, making it a memorable and educational day. Abhyas Special School supports the educational journeys of adults and children with Special needs. These participants range in age from five to forty-seven years old.

The visit was both enlightening and inspiring. The commitment of the school's staff to providing a supportive and inclusive education for students with special needs is commendable. The insights gained will undoubtedly contribute to fostering inclusivity within our educational practices.
