

DEEPALAYA VISIT

“The mind once enlightened cannot again become dark.”

— Thomas Paine

On 13th October 2023, students of Jaspal Kaur Public School visited “Deepalaya”. Deepalaya is a non-profit organization. Since 1979, it has worked to improve children's lives in the areas of education, career training, health, and subsistence. Over time their focus has expanded and now they include things like child education and assisting disadvantaged women, youth, and children in becoming self-sufficient through education and career training.

JKPS students went there as a part of the Community Outreach Program. It was a great learning experience for the students. JKPS has always pushed its students to be excellent societal citizens since doing good things makes you feel good about yourself and improves your character. Jaspalians are raised with these giving principles, and their contributions show this. JKPS contributed Stationery items and books that would aid the learning process for the children there.

Deepalaya is a learning school and they aid students studying in government schools. They have a Physiotherapist to look after children's health. They promote computer education. They foster remedial teaching. They are doing high-quality work in the field of education, institutional care, helping the differently abled, environment sustainability, health care, and women empowerment. The students got inspired to take up vocational training or skill building activities after conversing with the teachers there.

The visit was fruitful. Not only did the children learned about the work done by the organization but also were motivated to help the children in academics. JKPS students enjoyed their visit and learnt a lot about the various programs run by Deepalaya. It was a very heartwarming and fun experience for the students.
