Visit to Nishkam Seva Trust, Tilak Vihar, Delhi

As part of our ongoing Community Outreach Program, the JKPS team visited the Nishkam Seva Trust, located in Tilak Vihar, Delhi on 21st January, 2025. This remarkable NGO is dedicated to uplifting downtrodden families through nishkam seva, meaning “selfless service,” without expecting anything in return. The visit was conducted with two parents and four enthusiastic students from our school, who actively participated in this enriching experience.

The visit highlighted the NGO’s commendable focus on holistic education and skill development. The organization provides scholarships to needy students and equips them with valuable skills, including computer literacy, content writing, and design editing. These efforts align closely with the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), particularly SDG 4: Quality Education and SDG 10: Reduced Inequalities.

The students were deeply inspired by the unwavering commitment of the staff and volunteers, who epitomize the spirit of selfless service. The opportunity to observe teachers empowering young minds with practical skills left a lasting impression on the students, motivating them to contribute to such noble initiatives in the future.

The visit was not only heartwarming but also an enlightening experience. It reinforced our belief in the importance of supporting such initiatives that uplift the most vulnerable sections of society. We returned with blessings and a renewed commitment to serving our community.

By sharing this experience, we aim to inspire others to join hands in supporting such organizations. Through our Community Outreach Program, JKPS continues to uphold its legacy of giving back to society and contributing to a better, more equitable world.
