On 12 September 2025, the Heritage Club of Jaspal Kaur Public School organised a visit to Amrit Udyan at Rashtrapati Bhawan in New Delhi. The visit aimed to give students exposure to India’s rich cultural and natural heritage.

The group explored the beautifully landscaped gardens, which showcase a harmonious blend of Mughal and British styles. They observed a wide variety of flowers, medicinal plants, rare trees, and intricate floral patterns. The tour also highlighted the historical evolution of the gardens and the eco-friendly methods used in their upkeep.

Students were particularly fascinated by the sections dedicated to bonsai trees, aromatic plants, and seasonal flower beds. The vibrant butterfly park and serene fountains added to the charm of the surroundings, creating an atmosphere of peace and learning. Guides explained how each part of the garden reflects India’s artistic traditions while incorporating modern sustainable practices, such as rainwater harvesting and the use of organic fertilisers.

The visit concluded with a reflective session in which students discussed their observations. Many expressed that the experience inspired them to develop a deeper interest in gardening, environmental conservation, and heritage preservation. Overall, the visit proved to be an enriching experience that enhanced their knowledge and instilled a sense of pride in India’s cultural and natural legacy.
