“Learning gives creativity, creativity leads to thinking, thinking provides knowledge, and knowledge makes you great.”

Dear Parents

Greetings from JKPS!

Each academic year is a journey of growth, exploration, and new possibilities. As we enter the new academic session, we welcome you and look forward to another year of learning and progress.

We take great pride in the achievements of our learners—in academics, co-curricular activities, character development, and personal growth. These accomplishments are a reflection of their dedication and your unwavering support. Your encouragement, patience, and belief in their potential play a significant role in shaping their success.

As students transition to new classes, we understand that every child adapts at their own pace. We encourage you to embrace this change with positivity, trust in their abilities, and support them as they navigate new challenges and opportunities.

As we embark on a new session, we encourage you to join us in fostering a positive and enriching learning experience for your child. With renewed enthusiasm, we remain dedicated to nurturing excellence, fostering creativity, and instilling strong values. Regular attendance, punctuality, and pride in school uniform contribute to a sense of discipline and belonging. Encouraging respect for teachers and peers, maintaining cleanliness, and adhering to school guidelines will help cultivate responsibility and create a supportive learning environment.

To relive the cherished moments of the past year, we are delighted to present Confluence 9.0, an e-magazine—a vibrant reflection of our students’ creativity, dedication, and unforgettable experiences. Click on the link below to celebrate the milestones we have created together!
